Donate to Plus-1

It’s difficult to predict when one might need help paying a utility bill. Hardships, like a medical crisis or job loss, are often unexpected and can be devastating. Plus-1 can make a difference.

Plus-1 is the utility assistance program administered by the Metropolitan Inter-Faith Association (MIFA). Through MLGW customer donations of $1 or more from their monthly utility bill, MIFA’s Emergency Assistance Program is able to identify and provide utility assistance to eligible customers who are facing unforeseen hardships.

Job loss and medical crisis are the most common reasons for seeking assistance. MIFA’s Emergency Services assisted 746 families with $138,039 in Plus-1 funds by the end of its fiscal year 2009. Memphis Mayor Pro Tem Myron Lowery recently donated $1,000 to Plus-1. Since its inception in 1982, Plus-1 has provided millions of dollars in assistance to families in crisis in Memphis and Shelby County. For details on receiving assistance, call MIFA at 527-0226.

Day In The Life: Meter Reader

In the latest “Day In The Life,” we find Steven Henderson, a meter reader in the North Service Center.

Henderson, a 4-year MLGW employee, emphasized the importance of properly reading meters to ensure the accuracy of utility bills. Bills are only estimated when meter readers cannot gain access to the meter; however, the readers themselves are not responsible for the estimate.

The dials of electric and gas meters, he said, are read from right to left. Possessing a good memory proves to be a great advantage when you walk the same route regularly. Meter readers encounter more on-the-job obstacles (pets, weather, etc.) than the average MLGW employee since the readers are required to walk from house to house.

Henderson said one of the required skills of the job is to be able to read a meter in less than two seconds. Timing is crucial when one has to read 700 to 900 meters a day. “Frequently, you encounter engaging customers on your regular routes who make your job more enjoyable,” he said.

Improve Your Home’s Energy Efficiency

MLGW and TVA are making it easier than ever to improve your home’s energy efficiency while also saving money on your utility bill. With the new In-Home Energy Evaluation Program, you can reduce your energy usage and receive a cash incentive for installing certain home energy improvements.

Each recommended energy improvement you make is eligible for reimbursement of up to 50 percent of the installed cost, with a maximum rebate of $500 per household. These energy improvements also may qualify for up to $1,500 in Federal energy tax credits in 2009 and 2010.

Here’s how to get started: Call 1-866-441-1430, Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m., to arrange for an In-Home Energy Evaluation by a TVA-certified Evaluator. A $150 fee is payable to the Evaluator at time of service (no cash; checks payable to “Energy Right.”)

Morning and afternoon appointments are available Monday through Friday, with limited Saturday appointments.

The house must be at least one year old; new construction is not eligible. If it is a rental property, then the landlord and tenant must both sign the Participation Agreement at the time of the Evaluation. For more details, visit www.mlgw.com.
