MLGW wins United Way's "Best of the Best"

MLGW won the "Best of the Best" Award for large companies for its 2017 United Way Campaign. This award is presented to the company with the highest donation to the Community Impact Fund. The Community Impact Fund allows United Way to make the biggest impact on poverty by strategically investing dollars in programs that affect education, financial stability and health.

Leaders of the MLGW United Way campaign for 2017 presented a check for $612,327 during a recent MLGW Board of Commissioners meeting. MLGW donated a total of $571,000.00 to the Community Impact Fund.

MLGW employees organized and took part in numerous activities throughout the year to raise funds for United Way of the Mid-South. Events in 2017 included the following:

- The MLGW United Way Golf Tournament
- Midday Music series, featuring MLGW employees playing music in the Administration Building lobby for "tips" to United Way
- Park Like an Executive, allowing employees to bid for a week of premium workplace parking

Thanks to smart meters, there's a new way to pay your bill: PrePay

MLGW is rolling out a new service made possible by smart meters. It’s called PrePay and it offers many benefits, including eliminating deposits, reconnection fees and late fees.

At the start of 2018, in New Year’s Day our area saw temperatures as low as 10 degrees. Many may have turned up their thermostats and by the time their utility bill arrived they may have been surprised by the increase in energy costs compared to the month before. Now, MLGW has a new option for customers that afford more control over their utilities and can avoid those end-of-the-month bill surprises. It’s called PrePay.

PrePay offers many benefits, including no deposits, reconnection fees or late fees. PrePay utilities is not new and it’s been offered in other cities for many years. It works much like prepaid cellphone services and can help customers manage their bill. Smart meters made PrePay possible for our customers. Customers who have smart meters for services MLGW provides to their home, can take advantage of this service.

Customers have the option to make smaller, more frequent payments, making it easier to set a household energy budget that makes sense for their lifestyle. For example, customers paid on a weekly basis, can choose to make payments when they get paid instead of once a month. New customers can start their PrePay account with just $100. Customers can choose text, phone or email low balance alerts so they’ll always know how much money is on their account. In the event services are disconnected, they can be restored in about an hour after payment is made. And there’s no reconnection fee.

To sign up, customers can visit any of MLGW’s community offices or call 901-528-7729. To learn more, call the PrePay hotline at 901-528-7729 or email us at prepay@mlgw.org. Once the customer signs up, they can use the “myusage” website or mobile app, available from the App Store or Google Play to manage their PrePay account. MLGW is currently notifying customers who are eligible for this service by sending letters to the customer of record. To learn more, visit mlgw.com/prepay.

Eliminate Deposits and Late Fees

MLGW carries a major responsibility to ensure the fullest consideration of all qualified sources for the purpose of conservation and purchasing. The intent of the Supply Diversity program is to provide an opportunity for minority, women and local small businesses to participate in our procurement process. At present, the minorities, women and local small businesses represent the groups in our supplier base that are underutilized. Therefore, our intent is to encourage the growth of minority, women and local small businesses by providing them with the opportunity to furnish MLGW with good and services through our supplier diversity program.

MLGW’s supplier diversity program is celebrating its 20th anniversary. The program has had a stellar track record when it comes to encouraging women, minority and local small business participation, and last year was no different.

“Suppliers diversity spend for 2017 was a whopping $75.4 million,” said Renisse Holloway, MLGW Supplier Diversity Coordinator. “We continue to be, very, very excited about our sheltered market program, which is our local small business program because it has done very well since its existence. We have outstanding numbers for 2017: We did $12.3 million, and all of those participants are located in the city.”

According to Holloway, it’s the culture at all levels of the organization that drives results.

“One of the reasons why I think our program is so successful, is because it’s supported from the top down, our Board of Commissioners sets our policy and supports the program and it goes throughout the organization, from the Board of Commissioners to the executive staff all the way down to our representatives. And our program has done very well because of that,” said Holloway.

A focus on outreach is another reason the program has been able to bolster spending with underutilized groups.

“Recently, we had what we call the Proactive Procurement Conference. It was very well attended, we had over 100 vendors attending. With that conference, we had educational opportunities on how to do business with MLGW. We also had the opportunity to set where the vendors were able to register online with both of our systems, and we had what we call the Vendor Fair. This is where we have representatives from those departments that would have either upcoming or future opportunities. Vendors are able to go from room to table to visit with those representatives to find out what the needs are, and also what the requirements are for bidding on their projects.”

Besides hosting its own vendor recruitment fair, MLGW also engages business owners at community events.

“We also have a vendor trade show. It is one of the largest trade shows in this region, the Mid-South Minority Business Continuum Economic Development Fair, which was recently held at Elvis Presley’s Graceland House.”

Holloway says opportunities are always coming available to sell products and services. She ensures that the best way to stay informed is to register online at mlgw.com/bids.

Rebate changes to eScore program

Since 2008, Memphis Light, Gas and Water (MLGW) and the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) are providing homeowners with a simple way to make their homes as energy efficient as possible through eScore, a home energy improvement program.

Through instant rebates on eligible improvement projects performed by members of the Quality Contractor Network (QCN), eScore allows homeowners to work with contractors to fix their homes at their own pace, re-engaging with the program as many times as needed over time to achieve their home’s best possible energy potential.

Rebates for window and door replacement were eliminated on January 1, 2018. After September 15, 2018, rebate applications submitted through eScore Program for the following upgrades will no longer be eligible for rebate:

However, the eScore program will continue to offer what customers value most, such as unbiased advice from trusted energy advisors; access to the QCN to find contractors that meet TVA membership and installation requirements with customer ratings; eligibility to free eScore inspection to give you assurance that the work is installed right; and advocacy from the eScore program staff if anything goes wrong.

Customers also receive a whole home energy evaluation with customized recommendations to help you make smart energy choices.

Rebates will continue to be paid for the following qualifying upgrades when the primary heat source is changed from non-electric to electric:

• Conventional Electric Water Heater
• Air Source Heat Pump
• Mini-Split
• Dual Fuel Heat Pump

Please visit escore.com or contact eScore today to speak to a friendly customer service representative for more details. The toll-free number is 855-337-2673. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., central standard time.

Five free things you can do to save energy in the summer

• Adjust your thermostat. In the summer, set your thermostat to 78°. If the temperature change is too drastic, raise the thermostat one or two degrees each week until you are comfortable at 78°.

• Use ceiling fans or box fans to create a breeze that will make you feel five degrees cooler. For each degree you set the thermostat below 78°, your monthly cooling cost will increase six percent.

• Block drafts around doors and windows. If you felt cold air seeping under doors and windows during the winter, remember to block those air leaks during the summer, too. Roll up thick towels and place them inside against the edges of exterior doors and on windowsills to block air leaks. Close your curtains or blinds during the day to block out the sun.

• Keep exterior doors and windows closed. If your house has storm doors or storm windows, make sure they are closed tightly.

• Adjust your water heater temperature. A setting of 120° or “warm” provides hot water and reduces the risk of scalding.

• Cook, wash laundry and do other chores in the morning or evening. Household chores that produce heat and moisture increase the indoor temperature, making your air conditioner work harder. Do these activities during the cooler hours of the day. Consider drying clothes outdoors instead of using the dryer; it will keep your dryer cool and save you money.
